

PersonaBase™

Content Syndication enhanced by intent

You've invested in high-quality content that explains the benefits of your product and builds your company's reputation as a market leader. But competition is fierce, and even the best in-house email lists and web channels represent only a fraction of the total audience for your message.

So how do you get your content in front of B2B decision-makers who are actively in-market and researching their next purchase?

True Influence's PersonaBase program couples the extensive reach of our Content Syndication network with the power of intent to find exactly the right audience for your content, at exactly the right time. Our InsightBase® Version 3.0 intent monitoring solution identifies accounts that are actively researching your product. We deliver co-branded email campaigns that promote your whitepaper, webinar or other valuable content to contacts who are eager to learn more.

The result: A steady flow of top-quality demand generation to drive every aspect of your marketing and sales strategies.

PersonaBase™ delivers:

Top-quality demand generation when you need it

Marketers always need more qualified contact records, but organic audience activity on your website and social channels will come and go. There's just no way around it. And you can't afford to beat up your own opt-in email list with redundant offers. The reach and diversity of our Content Syndication database ensures you'll get the steady supply of new, highly-qualified and fully-validated contacts you need to fuel your Account-Based Marketing (ABM) and other B2B sales strategies.

Industry-leading customer service

Our years of experience as a leader in intent-driven demand generation give us the insights to help you design a Content Syndication program that beats expectations.

Our PersonaBase team is devoted to helping you exceed your ROI and campaign performance goals. We respond immediately to optimize campaign parameters and address any concerns.

Outstanding exposure for your content

PersonaBase email campaigns promote your content as being value-added learning for B2B decision-makers. You build your reputation as a thought leader and long-term partner in your customers' success.

Feature Highlights

True Influence's extensive Content Syndication network speaks directly to the decision-makers you want to reach.

Market intelligence from our InsightBase Version 3.0's intent monitoring platform identifies accounts that are actively in-market and interested in your product, solution or service.

Our customer success team helps you design campaign targeting programs that tap into new audiences that improve your ROI and campaign performance goals.

Emails are co-branded and promote your content assets. Contacts are already engaged with your brand when they enter the pipeline.

We deliver only business emails for contacts who are interested in your product.

We deliver demand generation in the timeframe you request, and at the pace you request, integrating seamlessly with your existing marketing and sales programs. Your pipeline keeps pumping with the highest-quality contacts who are engaged with your content and are ready to buy.

TripleCheck® verification ensures accuracy of intent for contact records, 100% Guaranteed.

How PersonaBase™ does it

We find the right audience

InsightBase®'s Version 3.0 powerful True Influence Relevance Engine® intent signal analytics identifies accounts that are actively in-market. We then target those prospects across our Content Syndication database. We can also use InsightBase Version 3.0 to add technographic campaign criteria or target your named account list for your ABM strategies. Our goal is to create a program that overdelivers and outperforms, and we'll work with you to make it happen.

We help set the right lead qualification criteria

Our customer success specialists have years of experience in helping define campaigns that exceed ROI and performance expectations. In addition to your standard personas, we can help you refine conversion form questions, as well as identify job roles and other criteria that may be off your radar but still have enormous influence on the prospect's final purchase decision.

We send quality, co-branded email campaigns

We send emails only to contacts who have opted in with our Content Syndication partners because they want to know more about your product or solution. Your content is clearly branded, and your team reviews and approves the campaign before it launches.

We validate every contact record

We leave leads on the cutting-room floor that other providers send along to you. Our exclusive TripleCheck® contact record validation process uses computer algorithms, human tele-verification and social media to confirm that lead information is current and accurate. And our leads are 100 percent guaranteed – any out-of-target leads are replaced, no question.

We deliver leads when you need them

PersonaBase delivers contact records daily or weekly, as you choose, and can be posted directly into leading marketing automation systems to fuel your existing nurturing programs. We guarantee demand generation delivery at the volume you request, at the pace you request, keeping your pipeline consistently healthy.

We're there for you

Our customer service makes us a recognized leader in demand generation. We are with you every step of the way, answering any questions and fielding any complaints. We can adjust campaign parameters on the fly to meet changing goals and keep your ROI on track.

We get results

PersonaBase keeps your marketing and sales pipelines pumping with top-quality contacts who are engaged with your content and ready to move along the purchase journey to a closed sale. It's the perfect solution to leverage the power of intent to connect with a broader audience and grow your business.

"They have a community of great buyers and influencers, they have a deep knowledge of best practices and methodologies to help today's progressive demand-generation professionals."
