

DisplayBase®

Unified Cross-Channel B2B Media Management

Getting the most from your digital advertising budget requires insightful planning, constant performance monitoring and rapid optimization of all your display channels and media.

But the data and tools you need are scattered across multiple platforms, and manually analyzing and adjusting your display programs is tedious and time-consuming. You overspend on low-performing channels and risk missing out on opportunities to connect with engaged B2B buyers at key points in their purchase journey – or even worse, alienate them by retargeting them with ads that lag behind their pace in the customer journey.

You need a single point of entry to manage and optimize your display programs. You need constant, integrated performance and ROI analysis across all digital channels. You need the most advanced audience targeting and multi-touch attribution features to understand exactly how your ad spend impacts prospects throughout the purchase journey. We help you design display campaigns that meet your goals

Every successful campaign starts with a plan, and we have the expertise and market intelligence to support you in making plans that get results. With DisplayBase's powerful audience targeting, re-targeting and analytic capabilities, we can advise you on what platforms and media are resonating with your ideal customer profile. Should you be spending more on leaderboards, video pre-roll impressions or native text placements on web sites that cover your industry? We have the data, we have the expertise, and we'll help you craft a plan.

We react quickly when it's time for a change

Even the best campaign needs a tweak now and then. DisplayBase employs a proprietary media management platform to track user behavior and performance across all display channels and analyzes this data to make suggestions for shifts in budget, platform and audience targeting. No more pulling reports from five siloed systems and manually looking for trends. We know exactly what's happening, as it's happening, and we optimize your campaigns accordingly.

We tell you exactly how you are doing

Weekly reports detail your progress and how optimizations are impacting your success. Our team can work with you to create additional reports for advanced planning and budgeting. DisplayBase's optional multi-touch attribution enables you to model campaigns based on prospect behavior at every step toward a successful conversion, not just first touch / last touch. Other advanced reporting features include full inventory analysis, audience ad contextual data, call and location attribution, and integrated site analytics. You have absolute visibility into how your display budget is being spent, and exactly what you are getting for your investment.

We make all pieces work together

Every ad impression you serve to a potential customer should help build trust and move you closer to a sale. DisplayBase brings together all the data, expertise and technology you need to execute this vision – without the waste of serving junk impressions to a disinterested audience or spending your days juggling display ad orders.
